

Senior Environmental Consultant

Hansen Bailey is a boutique environmental consulting firm servicing mining and related sectors with a reputation for high quality work and client service. Our company focuses on attracting and developing high calibre professionals and puts a strong emphasis on maintaining a healthy work-life balance. We are a close knit team of professionals with offices in both inner city Brisbane and Singleton, in the Hunter Valley, NSW.

We have a current opportunity for a full-time senior environmental consultant to join our Brisbane office. We are currently working on development applications for major resource projects in Queensland, the Northern Territory and New South Wales.

The role requires a professional with appropriate qualifications and at least 5 years experience in the preparation of Development Applications including project management of environmental impact assessments. To be successful in this dynamic and challenging role you should have an understanding of a broad range of environmental technical areas and possess good project management, communication, report writing, and teamwork skills. Additionally, you should have up-to-date knowledge of the latest environmental legislation and industry best practice, have the capability to work autonomously, manage multidisciplinary projects and liaise with clients, regulators, staff and sub consultants.

If you can picture yourself contributing to a strong specialised team, then this is a truly outstanding career opportunity. Please forward your CV highlighting your relevant experience to admin@hansenbailey.com.au
